For the Enquirer. A CHALLENGE. Gentlemen: The following resolution, passed by the Clay Club of King William county, at August Court, has not been responded to by Locofoco friends; and, as it was published only in the Whig, we somewhat apprehend that it has not been seen or heard of by a majority of that party. We will, therefore, thank you, gentlemen, to give it a place in your columns. We wish it clearly understood by our Locotoco friends, that

We hereby give them notice, that, if they fail to meet us, as requested and challenged, we shall consider it as exhibiting a want of faith in their principles, and a determination to skulk from and shun a fair discussion of the issues now pending between the two parties. We also give them notiee, that we shall endeavor to get our best speakers to address the people of King William on their respective muster days in this month.
